

Bart Gijsbertsen

Bart is a guy with a wide-ranging background - spanning ecosystem management, teaching, organisational learning, social science, management and entrepreneurship. His approach to personal development and questions of leadership celebrates your capacity to face challenges, but without requiring all problems to always be solved. Embracing both love and problems as the deepest ingredients of all life, his coaching helps you to think and act freely, unlimited by the paradigms and prisoner's dilemmas that you may be confronted with.
